

This article is available online by clicking here

As well as proactively squirreling some money away for your kids each month, you can actually boost their savings whilst you spend, as part of a recent initiative by a website called KidStart.

Basically anyone can register, be it parents, grandparents, aunts or uncles, and if they carry out their online shopping via the KidStart website, the child's account that you nominate automatically receives a percentage of the amount you spend.

There are over 300 retailers signed up for the scheme, and the amount you can save will soon mount up, especially when you realise that your child will get 4% from Marks and Spencer purchases and 5% from the likes of Argos and John Lewis. So to ensure that your children, grandchildren or nephews and nieces benefit from your Christmas shopping or to find out more, just click www.kidstart.co.uk.

MoneyNet November 2008

<http://www.moneynet.co.uk/newsletter/newsletter/119/iss119article-1mnet.shtml?emvid=14767947215&lctn=art2&campaign=moneynet&keyword=newsletteriss119MNET>